

In light of recent events related to the tragic death of George Floyd, the leadership of Continuum Pediatric Nursing Services wish to reaffirm our commitment to providing equal and culturally sensitive services to our patients and their families while maintaining a nurturing, positive environment for our team of caregivers. This commitment is articulated in our Mission Statement:

Our Mission

To deliver the highest quality of nursing care with compassion and kindness to patients in their homes while respecting the unique needs of each patient and their family.

To provide a cost-effective continuum of care adjusted to the special needs of each patient.

To encourage a professional and supportive environment for employees that promotes competency expansion through education and training.

We take this mission seriously. As we all struggle with the impact of George Floyd's death and reflect on how we can contribute to a better nation for all our citizens, we focus on this mission and its message of inclusivity and caring. Compassion. The unique needs of each patient and their family. A supportive environment for employees. These words take on enhanced meaning today. Continuum will always stand for, and with, all of our patients, families and staff, with special attention to the marginalized and vulnerable among them.

For over 25 years Continuum has worked to live up to our mission every day, and through our team of professionals make a lasting difference in not only the health, but the overall well-being of our patients, their families, and by extension our community. We extend our sincere appreciation for everyone who shares this mission with us and we will always welcome any feedback that will help us live up to it in the years ahead.
